

This will be the first conference of its kind. This is a conference for all of the Construction industry to hear from all of the major Construction Industry software suppliers. Hopefully all software suppliers will support this conference and will professionally show what they bring to today's Construction Industry.

This will be a conference that crosses all boundaries and allows the industry to learn non-demonical methodology learning as well as how the software companies support industry procedures and methods.

This IS NOT A CONFERENCE TO MISS!

This IS AN EVENT THAT EVERYONE IN AND AROUND CONSTRUCTION SHOULD ENCOURAGE their employees, general contractors, subcontractors, suppliers, engineers, architects, construction managers, public, private, government owners, and other interested construction industry people to attend and SUPPORT.

Offer to help. Offer to deliver a paper. Offer to help organize. It is crucial that this be a success for all in the industry.
